Despre mine

A very hard-working individual, capable of both playing in a team and leading it, while also being self-sufficient and able to work efficiently on my own. I am a bilingual (English/Russian) Psychology Undergraduate, familiar with basic computer and data entry skills, confident user of office software, e.g. Microsoft Office and SPSS and a very creative individual, which is reflected in my multiple hobbies. Most of my past jobs implied working under constantly shifting conditions, various levels of pressure and often with different people, which taught me to adjust to any working situation and be able to think quickly and unconventionally, as well as to find an individual approach to every client. Finally, my psychology degree made me familiar with multiple concepts of general human behavior, child development, social cognition, marketing, physical and mental health, genetics, social studies, statistics, sales and data analysis.

Hobbies:

- Playing guitar and song writing
- Literature and article writing
- Hand-made and all kinds of DIY
- Outdoor activities
- Backpacking
- Learning to draw
- Martial arts
- Physical Exercises
- Fishing addict
